Loyola combines the most advanced technologies, an established tradition of excellence, and the talents of dedicated health care professionals to offer the most comprehensive care.

WHERE IT ALL BEGINS

Loyola University Health System is a nationally recognized health care facility located minutes west of downtown Chicago. Our 70-acre campus includes a 523-bed teaching hospital, a Level 1 Trauma Center, a regionally recognized Burn Center, a Transplant Center, the Cardinal Bernardin Cancer Center, a Level 3 Perinatal Center, the Ronald McDonald® Children's Hospital, and the Loyola University Chicago Stritch School of Medicine. Our reputation for excellence has once again merited us a place in U.S. News & World Report as one of "America's Best Hospitals".

THE LATEST IN TECHNOLOGY

Working across the continuum of care and utilizing state-of-the-art technology, Loyola's Pharmacy Department is offering career opportunities that are moving beyond traditional pharmacy services.

Part of this technology will include an integrated clinical information system, computerized physician order entry, automated dispensing cabinets, bar coded inventories, computer-controlled compounding pumps for nutrition, automated packaging equipment, satellite services in specialty areas offering immediate provision of medication and clinical information services, and point of care services.

CONTEMPORARY PRACTICE

This streamlined and sophisticated system will allow pharmacists to spend more time with patients, physicians and nurses in therapeutic evaluations where their knowledge and expertise will have a greater impact on patient care and outcomes.

Ranked #1 in Illinois for patient acuity, Loyola offers an opportunity to work with the most diverse patient population and experience new challenges each day. This includes involvement in new drug treatment therapies as well as cutting edge research. Working in one of the Midwest's most highly regarded teaching institutions will allow pharmacists to enhance their knowledge, expand their careers, and be part of our vision for the future.
